

Best Green Apple Vape

There's something so unique about green apples. Red apples are plenty sour, but they lack both the nutrition and the sweet flavor you expect when you're biting into one fresh off the tree. The same can be said of green apple vape flavors – not so much the nutritional part, but certainly the rich blend of sweet and sour.

There's plenty of brands claiming to best represent the same refreshing taste of green apple, but few manage to get it just right. Here's what we managed to track down in our ongoing search for the very best green apple vape e-juice on the market.
