

9 Best Men's Wallets That are an Absolute Joy to Carry

Wallets are a safe, stylish way to carry all of your money and cards around with you. There are tons of wallets to look at, each of them a little different from the rest. Some offer you strong RFID protection to keep your cards and accounts safe, while others try to stay small and modern. If style is what you're looking for, there's no shortage of modern-looking wallets to store all of your cash and cards.

If you're looking for a brand new wallet but are overwhelmed by the number of choices available, we've done the research to help you find the best men's wallet on the market. We've looked at the size, the type of wallet, the price, the material, and the wallet's RFID technology to help you find the top wallets for men at the best possible prices!

Before You Buy: Things you have to consider and look for when buying a wallet

Before going out and spending money on an expensive brand new wallet, you should know what to look out for so to ensure you're getting the highest-quality and most feature-rich option available. There are quite a few things to consider when shopping for a new wallet, and you need to be aware of them to help you make an informed choice.

1. Size: The most important thing to consider when looking for a new wallet is the size. You should make sure your ideal wallet can fit any money you need to carry around, along with credit cards or other things you need to keep with you. You also want to find a comfortable size for you and your style and generally want to avoid excessively bulky or slim options.
2. Style: Next, you should consider what type of wallet you would like. There are quite a few choices available, each with their own strengths and weaknesses. When initially browsing different wallets you can buy, you may not know whether you want a bifold, trifold, a money clip, or a cardholder. Be sure to browse a wide variety of wallets to find one that works best for you.
3. Capacity: If you're a person who tends to stuff your wallet full of money, cards, and receipts, you should keep that in mind when shopping for a new one. At the same time, if you are a person who tends to keep very little in your wallet, shop for a wallet on the slim side.
4. Coordination: Something many people forget to consider when looking at new wallets is the rest of their wardrobe! If you predominantly wear dark, muted colors, it would probably be best to avoid a wallet that is too flashy or bright. On the other hand, if you like more brilliant colors, get a wallet that complements whatever color you wear most often or something that works with various styles. A black wallet is almost always a safe choice if you're unsure about what goes best with your wardrobe.

5. Seasonality: You likely have different clothes for every season, so why not have a separate wallet for every season too? If you change your wardrobe with the seasons' change, your wallet should match your different styles. You may also prefer more streamlined options during warmer weather, which may be less critical when it's colder.
6. RFID: Another important thing to consider is the implementation of RFID-blocking technology. This one is critical because if your wallet isn't protected, you're liable to have your card information stolen without even taking a card out of your wallet! You want to ensure your wallet looks sleek and stylish, but it should also be able to protect your identity and money properly.
7. Price: If you're going to spend, you should make sure you're getting your money's worth. You want a wallet made of high-quality, durable materials using fine craftsmanship that is built to last. You also want to watch out for low prices, as poorly made wallets of low-quality are rampant in the market. Don't buy a wallet that wears out within a year and looks cheap doing it.
8. Browse: The last thing you should keep your eye out for is competitor brands' quality and pricing of their wallets. Make sure you're getting the best price possible by comparing prices with other websites. If you can get a very similar product at a better price elsewhere, take advantage of the savings and keep some extra money to store in your brand new wallet!

The Best Wallets for Men in 2020

And now, the part you've all been waiting for— a comprehensive list of the best men's wallets you can buy in 2020! We've compared all of these wallets, taking into consideration the factors mentioned above, so you can be sure that you'll find the absolute best wallet money can buy.

1. Bellroy's Hide & Seek Wallet

Why we have chosen this product

- Excellent craftsmanship.
- A slim, yet spacious design.
- Includes a hidden bill section to store extra cash.
- Made of environmentally certified leather.

The best wallet for

This wallet is a good choice for daily use. It holds up to 12 cards, and with its hidden bill section, it should be able to carry everything you need on a daily basis, all while staying relatively small and slim.

Overview

This slim men's bifold wallet stands out from its competition because of its sleek design and high-quality materials. It is made of environmentally certified leather, so it is sure to last you a long time. It also comes with a coin pouch, flat note section, a hidden bill section, and holds between 5 and 12 cards. It also boasts strong RFID protection, giving you peace of mind when carrying cash or cards. It comes in 7 different colors and is overall a great, classic men's wallet, keeping your money and cards safe in style! This is the best overall men's leather wallet that you can buy!

The good

- Slim design
- High-quality materials and craftsmanship
- Can hold cards and cash, making it versatile and good for daily use.

The bad

- This wallet is a little pricey but worth it.
- If you end up filling the wallet to capacity, it could be a little thicker than expected.

2. The Ridge's Slim Aluminum Minimalist Wallet.

Why we have chosen this product

- Comes with a cash strap or a money clip
- Modern durable compact design
- Lifetime guarantee
- Up to 12 cards without stretching out

The best wallet for

This is the best wallet for men who are looking for a durable minimalist wallet that has enough room to carry all of the cards you'll need throughout the day.

Overview

This slim men's wallet stands out from other wallets because of its lifetime guarantee and its compact design. This wallet is made of durable aluminum and has a sleek, minimalist design that can hold up to 12 cards without stretching! It even includes a money clip on the outside to keep your money secure, too. Also, even though this is such a small wallet, it has powerful RFID protection to keep you and your accounts safe. All in all, this wallet is perfect if you're looking for a mix of strong protection and a minimalist design.

The good

- Can hold 12 cards without stretching
- Durable and compact
- Money clip to store your cash

The bad

- This wallet is definitely on the small side, so if you're carrying a lot of cash around this might not be the best fit for you.

1. Aero Collective's Razer Stealth Wallet.

Why we chose this product

- Ultra-thin design

- Extremely durable (15x stronger than steel)
- RFID protection

The best wallet for

This is the best thin men's wallet for men who want their wallet to keep their money safe. With its extremely durable design and RFID protection, this wallet will keep your belongings safe better than any other!

Overview

Made of material used in military-grade body armor, this wallet offers better protection than any other on this list. It is extremely thin and comes in black, so you won't really have to worry about it matching your seasonal wardrobe. It holds up to 8 cards so you can be prepared for just about anything throughout your day, and has an elastic bungee loop for when your cards just won't cut it. It also keeps your cards safe with RFID protection. Overall, this is a very modern wallet that places security above all other concerns.

The good

- Extremely thin and durable
- High-quality and affordable
- Sleek and modern

The bad

- This wallet is even smaller than the last two thin men's wallets we looked at, so if you have more than eight cards to carry with you, you might have to leave some behind at home.

1. Why we chose this product

- Magnetic closure
- Extremely thin design
- High-quality, durable leather

The best wallet for

This is the best wallet for men who are looking for a good combination of security and size. This wallet can stay extremely thin while keeping your money safe with its magnetic closure.

1. Why we chose this product

- High-quality craftsmanship
- Slim and lightweight
- RFID Technology

The best wallet for

This is the best money clip wallet for men who want their wallets to be stylish! Made of the highest quality leather, this wallet will last you a long time while making a great match with anything you have in your wardrobe.

1. Why we chose this product

- Durable and stylish
- Popular brand
- Trifold

The best wallet for

This is a good wallet for men who have a lot to carry! Boasting an incredible amount of storage, Fossil's trifold wallet gives you the space you need to carry cards and cash without being too bulky and bulging out of your pocket.

1. Why we chose this product
 - One of the best slim bifold wallets available.
 - FlexLock Pockets
 - RFID protection

The best wallet for

This is a good wallet for men who are looking for a mix of style and security. The FlexLock pockets help keep your cards and money safe, and the high-quality materials and design keep you looking fashionable.

1. Why we chose this product
 - Durable, minimalist design
 - Made of aluminum
 - Has no straps, hinges, screws, or bands

The best wallet for

This is the best wallet for men looking for a minimalist design. Made of a single piece of durable aluminum, this wallet can hold everything you need while staying extremely thin and comfortable in your pocket.

1. Why we chose this product
 - Italian designed-handmade leather
 - RFID protection
 - Extremely stylish

The best wallet for

This is the best wallet for men who are looking for a well-made, stylish bifold wallet. This wallet is sure to give you a masculine look while at the same time remaining durable enough to keep your cards safe.