(CNN) —

Sunday, May 9, marks the second Mother's Day celebrated during the pandemic, and the normal festivities, like a big family brunch, a barbecue or even a weekend away, likely won't be possible for many moms. Depending on your provincial or territorial restrictions, you may not be able to even see your mom this year, so why not get her an extra-special gift to show just how much she means to you?

New moms with pandemic babies at home also need a little extra love this year. (Looking after an infant is difficult at the best of times, and these are definitely not the best of times!) So whether you're shopping for a new mom, for your own lovely mom or for a mother figure in your life, take a look through this eclectic collection of gifts to make her heart melt.

There are presents ideal for moms who love to garden, for those who deserve to relax and pamper themselves, for the mom who likes to show off her new special jewellery and for the tech-savvy mom who enjoys the latest gadgets. No matter what kind of Canadian mom you're shopping for, we're here to help you snag the perfect gift.

For the sentimental mom

Mother's Day is the perfect time to tell your mom just how much she means to you by gifting her with a keepsake of your special connection that she'll treasure always.

Custom Artwork Necklace (starting at 455.32; sproutdesignlab.com)

Sprout Design Lab

Custom Artwork Necklace

Small children produce so many adorable pieces of artwork, but they can quickly turn into clutter and take over your home. Instead, pick a truly special drawing and send it over to Sprout Design Lab to be transformed into an unforgettable piece of jewellery using 3D printing technology. Founded by a female team of engineers, this company captures precious childhood memories that you can keep forever. Choose from sterling silver, 14-karat solid yellow gold, rose gold, white gold or platinum, all with shipping available in Canada.
