

ALFRED APPS AND PAUL JJ MARTIN PROFESSORSHIP EVENT

12:00 pm	Dini Petty	Welcome, everyone – I’m Dini Petty, and I’m very pleased to be here celebrating the great work March of Dimes Canada does, and the Martin family’s long history of supporting that work. MODC supports people living with disabilities in a variety of ways so they can remain active, engaged members of their communities. Their programs and services touch everything from personal care and recreation to employment, travel, and research. I’d like to invite our host up to introduce the first of our special guests. He’s a partner at Miller Thompson and long-time supporter of MODC - please welcome Alfred Apps.
12:05 pm	Alfred Apps	Thank you, Dini, and thank you all for being here this afternoon. It gives me great pleasure to introduce a very special guest and very generous supporter of March of Dimes Canada’s research. Please welcome our former Prime Minister, the Right Honourable Mr. Paul Martin.
12:10 pm	Paul Martin	Mr. Martin speaks – Key Messages <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I’m proud of my family’s history of supporting the fight against polio and March of Dimes Canada’s Paul JJ Martin Early Career Professorship</li> <li>• This position focuses on ways that we, as a society, can facilitate the integration of people living with disability due to cognitive impairment</li> </ul>

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• It's a crucial part of March of Dimes Canada's vision of creating a society inclusive of people with disabilities, and I want to thank all of you, and Mr. Apps in particular, for being here today to celebrate and support that</li> </ul>
12:15 pm	Alfred Apps	Thank you, Mr. Martin. On behalf of March of Dimes Canada, please accept this token of our appreciation. Mr. Martin accepts award. Our next guest has spent many years serving in provincial and municipal politics, and now leads Canada's largest city. Please welcome the Mayor of Toronto, His Worship, Mr. John Tory.
12:18 pm	John Tory	Mayor Tory speaks
12:23 pm	Dini Petty	Thank you, Mayor Tory. Next, I'd like to introduce Deirdre Dawson, Professor in the Department of Occupational Science and Occupational Therapy at the University of Toronto and Senior Scientist with the Rotman Research Institute Baycrest.
12:26 pm	Deirdre Dawson	Ms. Dawson speaks
12:31 pm	Dini Petty	Thank you, Ms. Dawson. Next, it's my pleasure to welcome the very first researcher to hold March of Dimes Canada's Paul JJ Martin Early Career Professorship - Assistant Professor at the University of Toronto's Department of Occupational Science and Occupational Therapy, Dr. Emily Nalder.

12:34 pm	Dr. Emily Nalder	Dr. Nalder speaks
12:39 pm	Dini Petty	A hand for Dr. Nalder!  That brings us to our final speaker of the afternoon. Please welcome the President and CEO of March of Dimes Canada, Leonard Baker.
12:42 pm	Len Baker	Acknowledgment of speakers and everyone who attended <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Thank Mr. Martin for his family’s generous and long-standing support, including the donation being made today</li> <li>• Thank Mayor Tory for his belief in MODC’s mission</li> <li>• Thank Unstoppable Tracy for being there and all her enthusiastic support of MODC</li> <li>• Everything we do at MODC facilitates inclusion, choice, and control for Canadians living with disabilities, and we couldn’t do it without supporters like the Martin family</li> <li>• We’re so pleased to celebrate our partnership, and continuing support, so that Dr. Nalder and her colleagues can advance their research to support people with disabilities</li> </ul> AFTER STROKE <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Now I’d like to end by highlighting our After Stroke program</li> <li>• After someone recovers from a stroke and leaves the hospital, they’re often left to figure things out on their own</li> <li>• The need for support is growing because approximately 62,000 Canadians have a stroke each year</li> <li>• MODC is leading the way in addressing this issue through our After Stroke program and the new model of care it represents</li> </ul>

		Introduction for Video on Stroke Survivors and Caregivers <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• To really understand its impact, though, you need to hear from people who have lived it</li><li>• Please give a warm round of applause to Sean and Lara who were all kind enough to share their stories in this video</li><li>• play video</li></ul>
