Dear «FirstName»,

By now, most of us anticipated the world's return to balance — a semblance of normalcy that meant the worst was behind us. But as we enter the final stretch of 2020, it seems we're still weathering the storm.

Which is why, after much consideration, we've decided to suspend this year's in-person CE classes in Florida until further notice. The good news? We've worked quickly to convert our classroom setting to the next best thing: live streaming broadcasts. And of course, we will continue to offer our classic, self-paced online courses as well.

With live streaming broadcasts, enjoy the classroom experience from the comfort and safety of home, with no quizzes or tests. Take courses, live and in real time, from experienced instructors who understand the nuances of Florida's appraisal market — all from your couch. The best part? As a valued member, the option to stream your courses is automatically built into your membership.

With self-paced online courses, get the same great CE courses you know and love and continue your education at a pace that fits your lifestyle. Take advantage of McKissock's comprehensive online course library and complete CE when and where you want.

So as your CE deadline approaches in November, know that you still have options — especially as a valued McKissock member.

And while it's hard to know what the future holds, one thing is clear: Your future is still a sure thing, and we're with you every step of the way. Thank you for your patience and understanding during this trying time.

Stay safe out there, friends —

Ashleigh Wallach
